

The Zorro laptop holder designed by Colebrook Bosson Saunders uses a Zorro flat screen arm to support a laptop tray

The holder allows the laptop to be positioned at exactly the right height for any user

To be used in conjunction with a secondary keyboard to improve typing position

Zorro solves all issues related to laptop use in the office, both from an ergonomic and aesthetic point of view